DEWEY'S FOUR STARS SHINING IN MANILA

Flag of the Admiral Hoisted Over the Olympia.

England Thunders Forth the First Salute From Foreign Ships.

Multitudes of Congratulations to the Commanding Officer of the American Navy.

Manila, March 4, 4:30 p. m.—Dewey hoisted the admiral's flag over the Olympia at sunrise this morning.

Officers and crew of the flagship were unable to restrain their elation, and as the four silver stars on their azure field floated from the masthead, cheer after cheer rent the air, rivaling almost the ponderous guns of the foreign warships in Manila Bay that quickly thundered forth an admiral's salute as the bunting broke and floated out in the breeze of the morning.

The English ships were the first in the harbor to catch the inspiration. Their quartermasters, scanning the bay, glasses in hand, promptly reported to their respective commanding officers the new spectacle that had burst upon their view and hardly before the new flag had straightened out in the air a thunderous salute was fired, quickly joined in by every man-of-war within the harbor until the sun was almost obscured by smoke. The echoes of the guns rolled far and away over the island of Luzon and the calm ocean, and gave the semblance of a general bombardment.

During the entire day congratulations have been crowding thick and fast upon the Admiral of the American Navy. The officers and men of his own ship had the first opportunity to express their delight at the new honors that have met their commanding officer, and this was followed by the hearty expressions of the foreigners in the bay.

All day long boats from the ships at Manila have been moored alongside the Olympia, bearing officers anxious to present their respects and congratulations to Admiral Dewey.

An Insurgent Attack.

Private John Toise, of Company G, Third Artillery, was killed on a gunboat; Louis Barreau, Company G, and William Wheeler, Company I, First California, were wounded in a spirited attack made by the insurgents this morning on the outskirts of San Pedro Macati. The attack was repulsed, the fight lasting an hour. The American gunboat prevented the enemy's re-enforcements from crossing the river.

The Bennington Fired On.

The gunboat Bennington was fired on by the insurgents' shore batteries at Malabon this morning. The Bennington replied and soon demolished the batteries and set fire to the native portion of the town, destroying many of the dwellings.

The transport Senator arrived this morning with re-enforcements for General Otis. The Senator carried Companies A, B, C, and D, of the Twenty-second Infantry, and left San Francisco on February 1.

ADMIRAL DEWEY'S SALARY.

Fixed in the Naval Bill at $15,000 Annually.

Admiral Dewey's compensation for life amounts to $15,000 annually, in accordance with a provision adopted in the Naval Appropriation bill today giving him the same pay and allowance of the last General of the Army. This was $15,500 per year and $125 per month for quarters.

HEIR TO TWENTY MILLIONS.

Lucky Windfall to a Printing Office Apprentice.

Boston, March 4.—William Morrison, eighteen years old, received word last night that he had been left an estate worth $20,000,000 by an uncle, Frank A. Morrison, of California. The property consists of California estate, Amsterdam and Newark lands.

Morrison was a newsboy until two years ago, when he became an apprentice in a printing office.

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ is a fact, it is magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a salivary check, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in regular condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant.

Your kindness to me I can never forget," writes Mrs. Josie E. Clark, of Enterprise, Shelby Co., Mo. "I had despaired of ever getting well. I had been in bed for twelve years. Had aches all through me, numb hands, cold feet, and everything I ate distressed me. I was so weak, nervous, depressed and despondent. When I first wrote to you I thought I could never be cured. I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and my health is now good. You have my honest recommendation to all sufferers."

If the bowels are irregular they can be regulated perfectly by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

NEWS FROM GEORGETOWN.

Citizens Discuss the Proposed Entrance of the B. &amp; O. Line.

The publication in the Times yesterday of the news of the proposed entrance of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad into Georgetown, proved to be a welcome bit of information. A further investigation of the facts reveals the strong possibility of the main station of the company being brought over to the West End. This may not happen for some time to come, but its coming is regarded as practically a certainty. The establishment of the branch line into Georgetown will be the opening wedge for the project. The removal of the main station will be influenced entirely by the grade which has been made in Washington against the grade crossing. It is regarded as a foregone conclusion that the existing grade will continue for only a limited time. A bill is apt to be introduced in Congress providing for a change of the present ground track system, should the project of such a bill be completed with the existing trackage of the railroad in the District would make the change of grade very costly improvement. It is estimated that it would cost $1,000,000 and possibly more, to provide for an elevated system, it would be permitted, or for an underground tunnel, extending through the city. Rather than go to the expense of this improvement, those in a position to know state that it will be much cheaper to run the tracks into Georgetown. The project would avoid the problem of a change of grade in several instances. In the country west of Georgetown there would be no change of grade, and in the city, the project would avoid the problem of a change of grade in several instances. In the country west of Georgetown there would be no change of grade, and in the city, the project would avoid the problem of a change of grade in several instances.

Complaint has been made of a large hole in the pavement on Thirty-fifth Street, near T. Several weeks ago the water main in the street at this place broke, and when the break was repaired the hole from the excavation was filled with dirt and left without the pavement being replaced. The recent rains have made the dirt in the hole a mass of mud.

Within the past two weeks the congregation of the Gay Street Baptist Church has been looking for a suitable place in which it can hold services until the new edifice is completed. Arrangements have been about completed for the rental of the hall belonging to A. M. Baer, located at 1111 Street. This is a large room formerly occupied by the Lozano Dry Goods firm. About a year ago the Lozano firm was burned out and the hall was afterward remodeled. It is probably the best place for temporary meetings to be found in Georgetown and possesses the advantage of being admirably located. Negotiations for the renting of the Baer Hall will be closed during the early part of next week it is understood. Since the congregation of the Baptist Church was burned out they have worshipped in the small adjoining chapel, but it lacks all the essential conveniences. In addition thereto it is the desire of the congregation to remodel its entertainment hall in order that it may have a suitable place of prayer while the new church is in the course of erection.

A meeting of the Georgetown Clerks' Association was held last night and important business was transacted. Resolutions were adopted by the association which expressed their hearty approval of the work of the Citizens' Association. The resolution expressed entire satisfaction with the selection of B. T. Janney as president, and with the standing committee appointed by the president. The association promised its co-operation with the Citizens' Association in all matters tending to the benefit of the section of the city of which they are members.

Services will be held tomorrow morning and evening at the Dumbarton Avenue M. E. Church. The pulpit in the morning will be filled by the Rev. Dr. G. W. T. Wright and in the evening by the Rev. I. J. Smith.

Georgetown, Col., which was founded by George Thompson, of the same name, received from the West, has suffered heavy loss through fire. Over $50,000 worth of property was destroyed.

Burned a Smallpox House.

Norfolk, Va., March 4.—Citizens of Deep Creek, Norfolk county, on Thursday burned a house recently vacated by a smallpox patient in order to prevent the spread of the disease.

MANILA, MARCH 4.

Dislocation and fermentation cannot go on without a certain amount of heat, which is localized by reason of the defective conductivity of organic substances. For this very reason the evil becomes aggravated; the heat under penmanship, being operations is overheated, and instead of extending their caloric activity, the microbes become their own executioners. In short, it has been proved that in the places where they flourish the temperature rises to 200 degrees, changing the hay into carbonaceous matter, porous and very light. In these unsupervised kilns the hay, being altered into finely divided carbon, consumes without flame for want of oxygen, but when the pile is suddenly opened the excess of air causes the incandescent mass to inflame instantly.

PSEUDONYMS.

People Are Now Writing Under Their Own Names.

(From the New York Press.)
Modesty has ceased to be a virtue. There were times when writers hid their identity under pen names, and a reputation had been established for sense and style, but nowadays I notice that children sign their right names and titles to articles, hurriedly dashed off, possessing neither maturity nor merit. The pseudonym is not popular with publishers, because it is the writer who must sell the magazine, not the magazine that must make the fame of the writer. The pseudonym is popular with cowards who will never fight in the open.

Let us go back a few years and recall some familiar literary pseudonyms. Here is our faithful friend, George A. Brown, who is "Gath," and was, years ago, "John Green" and "Leartes." Oakley Hall, just laid away in his coffin, was "Hans Yoke," long before he was Mayor. Joe Howard used to sign his name "Monsieur X," and "M. T. Jug," and Whitelaw Reid was known to early fame and poverty as "Agass." It was under the pen name of "Asa Trenchard" that Henri Waterson made his appeal to fame, and about the same time his former partner, Charles H. Smith, was getting glory out of "Bill Arps."

The amiable author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" used to take pride in her signature of "Christopher Crowfield," and her father, Henry Ward Beecher, signed his name with a star (*) in many of his ablest articles.

Never forget that my old friend, Richard Watson Gilder, editor and poet, used to regard himself as genuine "Old Cabinet," for that was his pseudonym when he was one of the wild boys of Borlton.

George William Curtis was "Old Bachelor," however, for several years before he became the dean of dramatic critics, toyed in print over the nickname of "Mercurio," which showed how he leaned to "Romance and Juliet" in his early days. Mr. Winter is sixty-three years old. A. C. Wheeler is not doing much with "Nym Crinkle," when he was the "World's" critic. "Words and Their Uses" did not give Richard Grant White more fame than his other two precious possessions—"Stanford" and "U. Donoghue O'Connell." Before he grew famous as "The Marvel" of our old friend Donald Grant Mitchell was broadly known as "John Timon."

Population of Belgium.

(From the Correspondence of the London Post.)
The population of Belgium is becoming so numerous that the country is no longer able to support all its people, who in consequence are leaving their native land in larger numbers every year and accepting situations abroad. Last year nearly 10,000 workmen took out passports for Bulgaria, Servia, Roumania, Russia, China, and Siam. The emigrants consisted chiefly of quarrymen, metalworkers, glassblowers, and brickmakers, but they included also a large number of engineers, architects, and managers of works who were leaving Belgium to take up good appointments. One engineer, M. Rouffart, was being summoned to China by Li Hung Chang to study the great fortress of vegetable fibre, which they dismantle and digest. This work of
